SUCCESS AFTER DISASTER

A band of 4 boys and a girl are visiting Newcastle for the first time. But an accident has meant that the lead guitarist, Duane Andrew, is in hospital with a broken leg. She is likely to stay there for several days.

The band decided they should still play even though they were one person short. ‘The show must go on,’ Danny Roberts told our reporter. ‘We won’t disappoint our fans.’

The concert was a great success. When the band left in their coach, there were crowds of people cheering them on.
